The companies that are storing petcoke in Southeast Chicago are attempting to convince our elected representatives that this material is safe. It is not. The storage facilities have allowed this material to engulf our community. Their meager attempts to curtail the pollution created by Petcoke are not effective, and will continue an unacceptable amount of exposure to this toxic material. This material is being stored within 20 city blocks of Lake Michigan, and transported on uncovered barges across Lake Michigan. As a result, the drinking water for millions of people is being polluted with Petcoke. The production and storage of Petcoke is so dangerous that it needs to be illegal. STOP THIS ENVIRONMENTAL DISASTER NOW

We are tired of these industries dumping on our citizens. We all must live on this earth with the thought of leaving our earth as good, or better, than when we arrived. Our century has tried it's hardest to ruin the environment. We demand removal of these coke piles NOW! Why not put a pile next to the homes of Mayor Emmanuel? Better yet, let's place a 5 story high pet coke pile on the lawns of the Beemsterboer and Koch brothers? How about the COO of British Petroleum? We are tired. We shouldn't have to fight these dirty corporations to live cleanly on God's earth. Remember, not even Corporate America owns this earth.

This area is precious to me as my family lives there. This needs to stop. Shame on all the politicians that think it is okay. How about transporting this poison to their neighborhoods. It's time for the Koch brothers to move their dumping grounds somewhere else. However, as always it's all about the almighty dollar and the haves and have nots. Unbelievable how this area is STILL everyone's dumping ground. I used to live in this area and am certain suffered health issues due to this inexcusable poison being projected into the water and air. So to Mr Mayor and Koch Industries find somewhere else for this contamination and stop using Lake Michigan and the Southside of Chicago as your dumping ground-despite what you think real human beings do live there.

It's time for our elected officials to protect the health and property of their constituents, (who they are supposed to be legislating in favor of) instead of the corporate interests and profits of private entities and people. (Which are constantly legislatively favored over the rightful public by the way.) It's time to stop the corporate coddling and favoritism! Dumping chemicals in our water and releasing them in the air is a crime. Treat it as one! Protect the public and our health! Move those piles!

I live on the Southeast side, although a little farther away from these dirty, dusty mounds than some residents. If Indiana does not want this toxic product, why should we in Chicago and in Illinois be the dumping ground for it? Tar sands oil is not environmentally friendly, and neither is its byproducts. Stop the practice - it is killing us, and get the Koch Brothers out of our lives.

Since I currently reside on the southeast side of the city, this issue is very important to me. Is this being done because we have a low income Hispanic and African American population. Are we that expendable that our health concerns are not paramount to escaping stricter environmental laws? Something should be done about this issue immediately.

CommentSign on to petition Mayor Rahm Emanuel to protect Lake Michigan and surrounding communities from the pollution of exposed piles of petcoke. Koch is bad for your health. The mayor of Detroit kicked petcoke out of their area with the pressure of the people, and its not allowed to be stored in this manner in Indiana. This problem will not go away on it's own. BP is set to triple their production this coming year. Why are we subject to this poison? Tell Mayor Rham Emanuel to remove those petcoke piles. Tell the Koch brothers that Lake Michigan is not their dumping ground. We all have the right to clean air and drinking water.

Since Detroit got rid of it in a hurry, it must be really bad. Think fine particulate dust in your lungs, skyrocketing numbers of asthma sufferers, lung disease, & lung cancers. Subjecting anyone to that is wrong. Even housing it--take one major storm to take the shoddily built roof off, and it would fly everywhere--into the city, into Lake Michigan, and neighboring states. The safest solution: don't store it. Your health is not worth risking for $ from the Koch-sponsored company.

I've lived in this neighborhood my entire life and can only imagine what types of health effects many of us will have later in life due to these pet coke deposits and other pollution in the area. Including nearby Indiana plants cargill and the Dove soap company. (Not to mention the fourth largest fuel refinery in the US, BP.) Many people in the neighborhood can't move out due to financial reasons or other reasons such as their family being near. Recently became a professional and will be able to move out soon. However, whatever bodily effects this pollution will cause is yet to be seen.

I lived the first 24 years of my life living within a few yards of the piles of coke. Everything in our home was coated with black oily dust. The foilage in the backyard was coated in this dust. My dad died of COPD, my mother of throat cancer and COPD, my grandmother of throat cancer and I have had thyroid cancer. Please allow the people in the area to live a decent life. Put these piles somewhere far away in an unpopulated area. It is the humane thing to do.

Witnessed the results of a wind storm on some of these open air stored piles of pet coke in Detroit, across from Windsor, Ontario. Not only ugly, but very dangerous fine black dust swirling up in a huge cloud and spreading wherever the wind took it. You absolutely should not store this dangerous material - but especially in the open air. You will harm people and the environment with it - do not allow it.

I fought against the petroleum coke piles in Detroit. I brought questions against the Dept of Environmental Quality, and city departments requesting they look at regulatory law closer. As a "nuisance per se" the people have the ability to combat this substance which compromises their health and safety. OSHA classifies it hazardous to workers and requires protective clothing - this doesn't get told to residents nearby.

Pet coke petroleum coke,The use of fossil fuels such as petroleum can have a negative impact on Earth's biosphere, releasing pollutants and greenhouse gases into the air and damaging ecosystems through events such as oil spills.
